

August 2015 Assignment

“Meet the Counselor”

Take some time and meet your counselor. Introduce yourself and see if they have any information that may be useful to you (internship information, scholarships, ACT workshops, etc.). Counselors receive information from colleges, businesses, community leaders, civic clubs, etc. to give to students. So make sure you’re not missing out on valuable resources. Also, if you are looking for a job, job shadowing opportunity, community service opportunities, etc. they may have information for you. Counselors usually have a large number of students to help so they may not come looking for you. You must go to them and visit them at least twice each nine weeks.
